

2.

English newspapers can more or less say what they want. On the other side of the Channel, however, although freedom of the press is guaranteed by the constitution, the rules which govern the media are stricter. For example, it is forbidden to publish details of an individual's private life, if the person concerned has not given permission. Ex-prime minister Berlusconi therefore, was able to manipulate the fact that he had had a relationship with a minor.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

C.D.L.C.I. - Manchester